

Vivafresh™ Services

We seek a lasting, mutually beneficial professional relationship with our customers, offering services to expedite each phase of your Vivafresh Technology implementation and operations. We resolve unique challenges at each installation in a spirit of cooperative, resourceful problem solving. Trained and certified personnel fulfill all Vivafresh services.

Vivafresh Research discovers your product's freshness potential and special needs to assure you'll see advantages before you invest in a System. Research helps achieve the best System load management practices for stellar results. It also helps you plan your new product offerings.

Vivafresh Applications Consulting guides you to apply the Technology to your growing, production, transport, warehousing, staging, wholesaling, or retail operations. We carefully study how and where you fit into your industry and help work out the most cost-effective way to maximize advantages. Then we walk you through implementation. You'll learn by working with a masterful Vivafresh Applications Consultant.

Vivafresh Engineering adapts or designs hardware and software to work best for your products and methods, providing you a complete and integrated maximum freshness solution.

Vivafresh Software Programming optimizes the standard software that controls a Freshness System's lifesustaining internal environment, as needed. We provide specific 'recipes' for each of your products.

Vivafresh Load Management provides expert and accountable load monitoring oversight around the clock. It's the human factor that puts magic and genius into Vivafresh. You know your investment is safe when our skilled and dedicated technicians watch over every load. Authorized users can remotely and securely access System controls, if needed, with any web-enabled device — even a Smartphone.

Vivafresh Maintenance protects your investment with predictive monitoring, preventive maintenance, and emergency repairs for everything we sell. Your System will be maintained per specifications for maximum life and trouble-free operation. An extended warranty covers your Vivafresh System in case something should ever fail. All through a worry-free, fixed-price contract.
